Finals Speaker

Mortimer M. Caplin

Former Commissioner of the Internal Revenue Service

Mortimer Caplin was born in New York in 1916. He came to Charlottesville in 1933, graduating from the College in 1937 and the Law School in 1940. During the Normandy invasion, he served as U.S. Navy beachmaster and was cited as a member of the initial landing force on Omaha Beach. He continued his federal service as Commissioner of the Internal Revenue Service under President Kennedy from 1961 to 1964.

When he entered U.Va. at age 17, Mr. Caplin committed himself to all aspects of University life. From 1933-37, he was a star athlete in the University's leading sport—boxing—achieving an undefeated record for three years in the mid-1930s and winning the NCAA middleweight title in spite of suffering a broken hand. He also served as coach of the boxing team and was president of the University Players drama group. At the School of Law, he was editor-in-chief of the Virginia Law Review and graduated as the top student in his class.

In addition to his deep commitment to public service, he is well known for his devotion to teaching and to the educational process and to advancing tax law. Mr. Caplin taught tax law at U.Va. from 1950-61, while serving as president of the Atlantic Coast Conference. From 1992-97, he served as a member of the University's Board of Visitors. After stepping down as commissioner of the Internal Revenue Service, he founded Caplin & Drysdale in Washington, one of the nation's leading tax law firms, and the U.S. Treasury Department presented him with its Alexander Hamilton Award for "outstanding and unusual leadership."

As a legendary benefactor to the Law School, he funded the Law School's Caplin Auditorium, the Daniel Caplin Professorship, the Mortimer Caplin Public Service Scholarship, the Mortimer Caplin Public Service Award, the Mortimer Caplin Public Service Center, and several major improvements to the school. He has served as a trustee of the Law School Foundation and, since its inception in 1990, as chairman of the University's Council for the Arts. In 2001, Mr. Caplin was awarded the Thomas Jefferson Foundation Medal in Law.

He has been chairman of the board of the National Civic Service League and the American Council on International Sports and a trustee of the Peace Through Law Foundation in Washington. Mr. Caplin's many honors include the Tax Executives Institute's Distinguished Service Award and the American Jewish Committee's Judge Learned Hand Human Relations Award.

Academic Recession, The Good Old Song

We request that the audience remain in place until the academic recession has passed. The presentation of diplomas will follow at the locations noted in this program. Degree candidates who do not receive their diplomas at school or departmental ceremonies may receive them at the Office of the Registrar in Carruthers Hall after 2 p.m., Monday, May 19.

A History of Final Exercises at the University of Virginia

by Raymond C. Bice, Professor Emeritus

So astute was Mr. Jefferson in determining the basic educational policy for the University of Virginia that the policy has seen very little change in the University's 184-year history. The colorful ceremony you will see today, however, would not have been held under Thomas Jefferson's original plan, which did not provide for degrees and diplomas. Although the early students of the University were highly respected for their knowledge, some of them petitioned the Board of Visitors for diplomas to improve their opportunities for employment.

Out of deference to the founder, the board took no action on these requests during Jefferson's lifetime, but fifteen months after his death, it changed the policy and directed that plans be laid for the first "Public Day" (commencement). In July 1829, the first Public Day was held in the Dome Room of the Rotunda. The program was very long, and it included orations by students. By 1848, the program began with a procession led by students and involved a single address by a prominent person.

Public Day was held in the Dome Room until the Rotunda annex was completed in 1853. It was then held in the public hall of the annex until the Rotunda and the annex burned in 1895. When Cabell Hall was completed in 1898, the Public Day programs were held in its auditorium. President Alderman's inauguration in 1905 brought about the more formal procession as seen today. It is now led by a faculty grand marshal.

When the McIntire Amphitheatre was completed in 1921, it became the site for the final exercises. A sudden drenching rainstorm disrupted the 1949 ceremony, sending the soaked graduates and guests into any shelter they could find. The threat of sudden storms and the increased number of graduates caused President Colgate Darden to declare that the 1952 ceremony would be the last to be held in the amphitheatre. Since then, Finals have been held on the Lawn except in bad weather.

Even when the ceremonies were held in the amphitheatre, the participants marched from the Rotunda, down the Lawn to the site of the ceremony. Students have long considered it a high privilege to have the opportunity to walk down the Lawn at Finals, and today's students place an even greater importance on this privilege. So important to many of them is the ceremonial walk down the Lawn, that a number of students, cheated out of a ceremony on the Lawn by bad weather, "confirm" their graduation by processing down the Lawn after Finals.

Through 1961, the president conferred the degrees and handed each recipient a diploma. By this time, graduates numbered in the thousands. The ceremony had become much too lengthy and the logistics too complex. Beginning in 1962 and continuing today, degrees are conferred in a main ceremony by the president. Degree recipients and their guests then reassemble later in "diploma ceremonies," where the diplomas are presented to the graduates by the deans.

The Academic Procession

The Procession

The academic procession is led by the grand marshal of the University bearing the official silver and ebony mace. Most of the processioners wear the academic costume accepted by a majority of the principal institutions of higher learning in the United States, though certain academic officials, such as the rector of the University, wear particular costumes indicative of current office. The processional order is listed below.

The Gown

The processional gown is usually black; the design of the sleeves denotes the type of degree being conferred. The bachelor's sleeve is long and pointed. The master's sleeve has squared ends, with the arc of a circle near the bottom and a slit for the arm near the elbow. The doctoral sleeve is bell-shaped with three velvet bars. The doctoral robe has full-length velvet panels in front, either black or a color that symbolizes the wearer's field of learning.

The Hood

A separate ornamental fold hangs down the back of the gown, and its lining carries the colors of the college or university granting the degree (for the University of Virginia, orange and blue). An outside band of velvet varies in width according to the degree: two inches for bachelor's degree, three for the master's, and five for the doctorate. The color of the band and other velvet on the doctoral hood symbolizes the field of learning (such as dark blue for philosophy). The length of the hood also varies with the level of the degree: bachelor's, three feet; master's, three and one-half feet; and doctorate, four feet. Bachelor's and master's degree candidates often do not wear their hoods.

The Cap

The cap is usually the black mortarboard, decorated with a tassel. Gold tassels may be worn by holders of doctoral degrees, and some master's tassels are white. Generally, the colors of the tassels represent the principal fields of learning and are described below.

Processional Order of Degree Candidates

Biomedical Engineering

William Chanung Jung, Ashburn, VA. B.S. and M.S., University of Virginia. Dissertation: Perfor- mance Characteristics and Contrast-Detail Comparison of Digital vs. Analog Full-Field Mammography System.

Daniel Kim, Brooklyn, NY. B.S., Case Western Reserve University, M.S., University of Virginia. Dissertation: Improved MRI Methods for Quantifying Intramyocardial Function.

Chemical Engineering

Gail Louise Dempsey, Charlottesville, VA. B.S., University of Maryland, M.E., University of Virginia. Dissertation: Molecular Dynamics of Oxygen Diffusion Through Water.

Neil Francis Leininger, Carpenter, WY. B.S., University of Wyoming, M.E., University of Virginia. Dissertation: Polyglycol-H₂O Solutions as Environmentally Benign Reaction Solvents.

Lisa Velsar Smith, Charlotte, NC. B.S., Johns Hopkins University, M.S., University of Virginia. Dissertation: The Role of Flagella in the Attachment of Bacteria to an Abiotic Surface.

Computer Science

David Wayne Coppit, Galveston, TX. B.S., University of Mississippi, M.S., University of Virginia. Dissertation: Combining Formal Methods and Component-Based Design for High-Quality Low-Cost Domain-Specific Languages and Tools.

David Raymond Mikesell, Harrisonburg, VA. B.S., University of California. Dissertation: Tightly Coupled Modeling in Environmental Simulations.

Electrical Engineering

Fatih Hamzaoglu, Turkey. B.S., Middle East Technical University, M.S., Clemson University. Dissertation: Low Power High Performance VLSI Design in Deep-Submicron CMOS Processes.

Emin Faruk Kececi, Turkey. B.S., Istanbul Technical University, M.S., Duke University. Dissertation: Adaptive Actuator Failure Compensation for Robotic Systems.

Kamaljeet Singh Saini, India. B.E., Birla Institute of Technology, M.S., University of Virginia. Dissertation: A Novel GaAs-Quartz Based Approach towards Larger Band-Width Schottky Diode Frequency Multipliers.

Materials Science and Engineering

Peng Li, China. B.S., Northeastern University, M.S., Beijing University of Aeronautics and Astronautics. Dissertation: TEM Investigations of Dislocations, Short-Range Ordering and Incoherent Interfaces in Zr-N Alloys.

Donald L. Pile, Woodbridge, VA. B.S., Northwestern University, M.S., Pennsylvania State University. Dissertation: Controlled Permeability and Surface Properties of Conducting Polymer Films in Membrane and Gradient Forms.

Mechanical and Aerospace Engineering

James Thomas McLeskey, Jr., Richmond, VA. B.S., College of William and Mary, M.S., University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. Disserta-
