The degree candidates in this program were applicants for degrees as of May 1, 2017. Distinction and honor notations in this program are based on coursework completed as of the end of the Fall 2016 semester and may be adjusted based on coursework from Spring 2017.*

The August 2016 and December 2016 degree recipients precede the list of May 2017 degree candidates in each section.

A History of Final Exercises at the University of Virginia

So astute was Mr. Jefferson in determining the basic educational policy for the University of Virginia that the policy has seen very little change in the University's 198-year history. The colorful ceremony you will see today, however, would not have been held under Thomas Jefferson's original plan, which did not provide for degrees and diplomas. Although the early students of the University were highly respected for their knowledge, some of them petitioned the Board of Visitors for diplomas to improve their opportunities for employment.

Out of deference to the founder, the Board took no action on these requests during Jefferson's lifetime, but fifteen months after his death, it changed the policy and directed that plans be laid for the first "Public Day" (commencement). In July 1829, the first Public Day was held in the Dome Room of the Rotunda. The program was very long, and it included orations by students. By 1848, the program began with a procession led by students and involved a single address by a prominent person.

Public Day was held in the Dome Room until the Rotunda annex was completed in 1853. It was then held in the public hall of the annex until the Rotunda and the annex burned in 1895. When Cabell Hall was completed in 1898, the Public Day programs were held in its auditorium. President Alderman's inauguration in 1905 brought about the more formal procession as seen today. It is now led by a faculty grand marshal.

When the McIntire Amphitheatre was completed in 1921, it became the site for the final exercises. A sudden drenching rainstorm disrupted the 1949 ceremony, sending the soaked graduates and guests into any shelter they could find. The threat of sudden storms and the increased number of graduates caused President Colgate Darden to declare that the 1952 ceremony would be the last to be held in the amphitheatre. Since then, Finals have been held on the Lawn except in bad weather.

Even when the ceremonies were held in the amphitheatre, the participants marched from the Rotunda, down the Lawn to the site of the ceremony. Students have long considered it a high privilege to have the opportunity to walk down the Lawn at Finals, and today's students place an even greater importance on this privilege. So important to many of them is the ceremonial walk down the Lawn, that a number of students, cheated out of a ceremony on the Lawn by bad weather, "confirm" their graduation by processing down the Lawn after Finals.

Through 1961, the president conferred the degrees and handed each recipient a diploma. By this time, graduates numbered in the thousands. The ceremony had become much too lengthy and the logistics too complex. Beginning in 1962 and continuing today, degrees are conferred in a main ceremony by the president. Degree recipients and their guests then reassemble later in school and department ceremonies.

The Academic Procession

The Procession

The academic procession is led by the grand marshal of the University bearing the official silver and ebony mace. Most of the processioners wear the academic costume accepted by a majority of the principal institutions of higher learning in the United States, though certain academic officials, such as the rector of the University, wear particular costumes indicative of current office. The processional order is listed below.

The Gown

The processional gown is usually black; the design of the sleeves denotes the type of degree being conferred. The bachelor's sleeve is long and pointed. The master's sleeve has squared ends, with the arc of a circle near the bottom and a slit for the arm near the elbow. The doctoral sleeve is bell-shaped with three velvet bars. The doctoral robe has full-length velvet panels in front, either black or a color that symbolizes the wearer's field of learning.

The Hood

A separate ornamental fold hangs down the back of the gown, and its lining carries the colors of the college or university granting the degree (for the University of Virginia, orange and blue). An outside band of velvet varies in width according to the degree: two inches for bachelor's degree, three for the master's, and five for the doctorate. The color of the band and other velvet on the doctoral hood symbolizes the field of learning (such as dark blue for philosophy). The length of the hood also varies with the level of the degree: bachelor's, three feet; master's, three and one-half feet; and doctorate, four feet. Bachelor's and master's degree candidates often do not wear their hoods.

The Cap

The cap is usually the black mortarboard, decorated with a tassel. Gold tassels may be worn by holders of doctoral degrees, and some master's tassels are white. Generally, the colors of the tassels represent the principal fields of learning and are described below.

UNIVERSITY of VIRGINIA

B I C E N T E N N I A L

In celebration of the University's bicentennial, the Class of 2017 will wear a commemorative zipper pull with their Final Exercises regalia. The bicentennial design was inspired by Thomas Jefferson's original renderings for the Rotunda. Within the design are seminal references to architectural elements in the Academical Village: the serpentine walls can be seen in the curves of the number two; the profile of the Rotunda in the middle zero; and the aerial view of the Rotunda dome in the final zero. The University student body selected the mark by popular vote. The University of Virginia's Bicentennial Commemoration is a celebration of UVA's achievements, a recognition of the imperfections of its past, and a visualization of its future.

Deborah E. McDowell

Deborah E. McDowell is the Alice Griffin Professor of Literary Studies at the University of Virginia. She also serves as the Director of the Carter G. Woodson Institute for African-American and African Studies.

Ms. McDowell received a B.A. degree in English literature from Tuskegee University in 1972. She earned an M.A. degree in American literature and a Ph.D. degree in American and African-American literature from Purdue University in 1974 and 1979, respectively. Ms. McDowell served on the faculty at Colby College as an assistant professor and associate professor of English from 1979 through 1987. She joined the faculty at the University of Virginia in 1987.

Ms. McDowell is a leading figure in the development of African-American women's literature and feminist critical theory. She founded the African-American Women Writers Series for Beacon Press and served as its editor from 1985-1993. Ms. McDowell was one of many editors who published the inaugural Norton Anthology of African American Literature. Her publications include 'The Changing Same': Studies in Fiction by African-American Women, and Leaving Pipe Shop: Memories of Kin, The Punitive Turn, as well as numerous articles, book chapters, and scholarly editions.

Ms. McDowell was featured in Unearthed and Understood, a documentary produced by the President's Commission on Slavery and the University at UVA, and in A Good Man, a documentary on the career of dancer and choreographer Bill T. Jones. She was elected to the Raven Society in 1998 and was awarded an honorary doctorate from Purdue University in 2006.

Robert C. Pianta

Robert C. Pianta became dean of the University of Virginia's Curry School of Education in June 2007. He is the Novartis US Foundation Professor of Education, a professor of psychology, and founding director of the Center for Advanced Study of Teaching and Learning at UVA.

Mr. Pianta earned a B.S. degree and M.A. degree in special education from the University of Connecticut in 1977 and 1978, respectively. He began his career as a middle school special education teacher in the late 1970s. Mr. Pianta earned a Ph.D. degree in Psychology from the University of Minnesota prior to joining the faculty of the Curry School of Education in 1986.

Mr. Pianta's research and policy interests focus on the intersection of education and human development. His work has been influential in advancing the notion of teacher-student interactions and relationships and documenting their contributions to students' development. He has authored or co-authored more than 300 articles, 50 chapters, and 10 books. Mr. Pianta has led research and training grants totaling over $60 million.

Mr. Pianta is past Editor of the Journal of School Psychology and associate editor for AERA Open. An internationally recognized expert in both early childhood education and K-12 teaching and learning, Mr. Pianta has consulted with foundations, universities, federal agencies, and governments. He was named a Fellow of the American Education Research Association and received the Distinguished Alumni Award from the University of Minnesota in 2016.

The Good Old Song

That good old song of Wah-hoo-wah,

We'll sing it o'er and o'er;

It cheers our hearts and warms our blood

To hear them shout and roar.

We come from old Virginia

Where all is bright and gay;

Let's all join hands and give a yell

For the dear old UVA.
